

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this Body Builder's Guide (hereinafter referred to as "guide") is to provide information and guidance to the body builders that take charge of the final stage of vehicle manufacture by mounting their vehicle bodies on the cab chassis (incomplete vehicles) provided by ISUZU MOTORS LIMITED. The body builders are encouraged to refer to the information in this guide in order to perform rear body mounting at suitable conditions with good use of their own experiences.

- This guide is a summary of a technical content for body mounting and remodeling according to mounting of ISUZU MOTORS incomplete vehicles.
- It is not that ISUZU MOTORS guarantee the quality of construction or the safety and running performance of the modified complete vehicle which remodeling done according to this guide.
- For body mounting and remodeling according to mounting, the body builders must design and manufacture so that there is no influence on safety, the running performance, and the function of genuine devices.
- The body builders are to comply with the national regulations with respect to their vehicle bodies, cab chassis modification incidental to rear body mounting, and completed vehicles after body mounting.
- The manufacturing responsibility of completed vehicles after body mounting is in the body builders. ISUZU MOTORS does not owe the obligation.
- ISUZU MOTORS is not responsible for any human injury or instrument damage due to using this guide.

Note:

- This guide is made commonly for various destination. There may be equipment or function described which is not developed depending on destination.
- Follow the owner's manual for handling the vehicle or the equipments on vehicle.
- The content of this guide might change without a previous notice. Contact ISUZU MOTORS LIMITED, ISUZU distributor or ISUZU dealership for exact details of latest information.